Problem

Coupon Campaign issues:

30% of Customer Support (CS) tickets

Frequent in User feedback

UX Audit displays issues

“We want to increase the amount of live coupon campaigns, and also increase their conversion rate.”

E-commerce Department

Goal

The coupon relied on the user to copy or memorise the coupon code and imput it manually.

Goals
- Increase active coupon campaigns
- Increase Conversion Rate (CR%)
- Reduce user frustration & confusion

KPIs
- Increased CR%
- Decrease Customer Support tickets
- Decrease User feedback issues

Desk Research

Based on both internal and industry-wide findings, we knew customers want the best value for money when shopping online.

However, when presented with an inconvenient coupon format, the potential to miss out goes up, resulting in frustration.

Competitive prices and Valuable promotions beyond free shipping two of the top 5 important factors for customers choosing a retailer.

Digital Commerce 360/Bizrate Insights holiday shopping survey, October 2019, 1,055 U.S. online shoppers.*

Research

Qualitatively
- Session recordings to see it actually happen.
- Remote unmoderated user tests.

Quantitatively
- Google Analytics & Internal Reporting
- Customer Support tickets

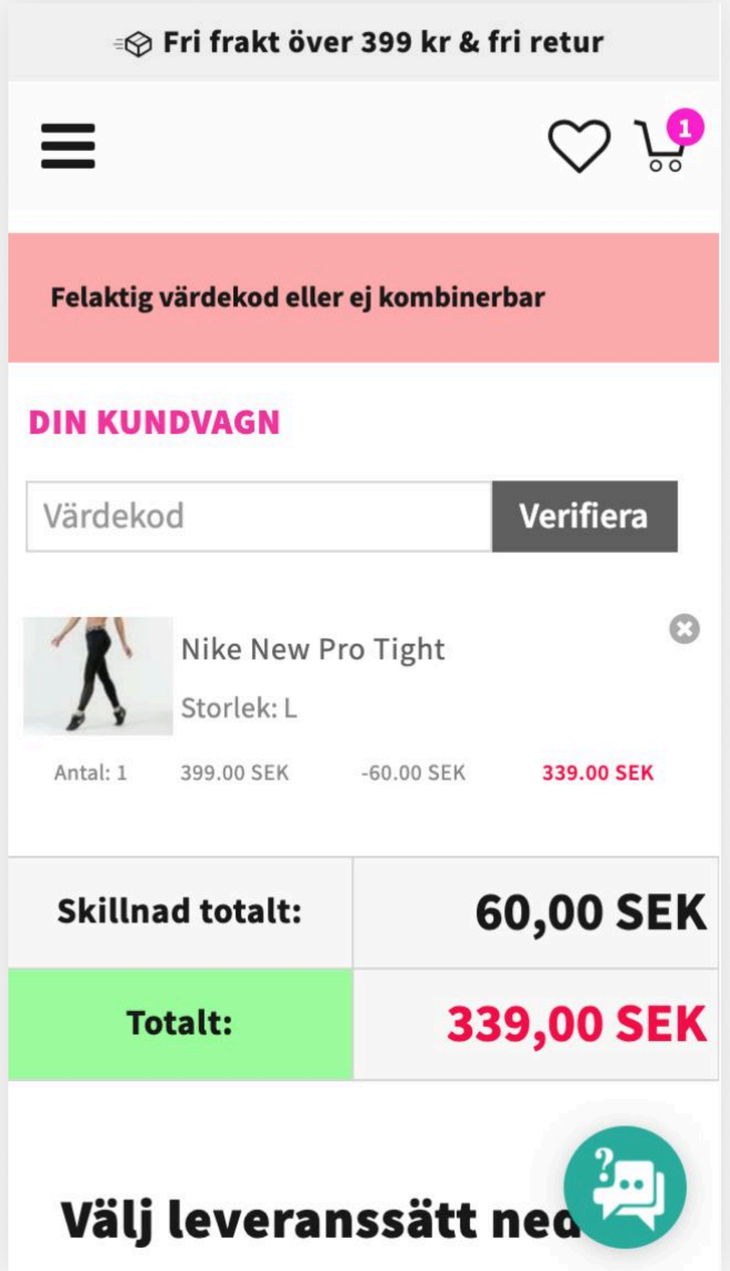

External research
- Competitive analysis
- Existing Research - Voucher flight

Insights

Key issues
- Users try to combine coupons often
- We have poorly worded error messages
- Copy / Pasting codes is a hassle
- Leaving the site to search for coupons

These cause
- Frustrating experiences at the Cart Level
- Poor final impression
- Users dropping off without purchasing

Discovery

Ideation Workshops

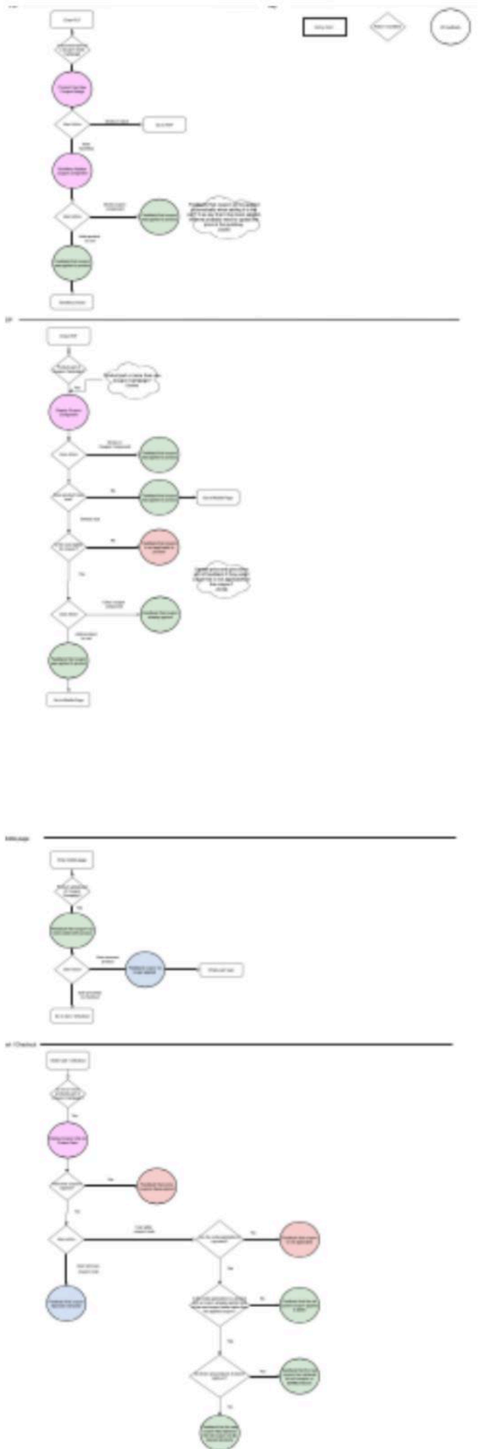

Qualitative Study

Actions taken

Ideation Workshops

Workshop to map out existing flows
- User touch-points
- Types of coupons
- Possible coupon combinations
- Coupon alert messages

Workshop ideating on possible solutions
- List examples
- Write down ideas
- Affinity map

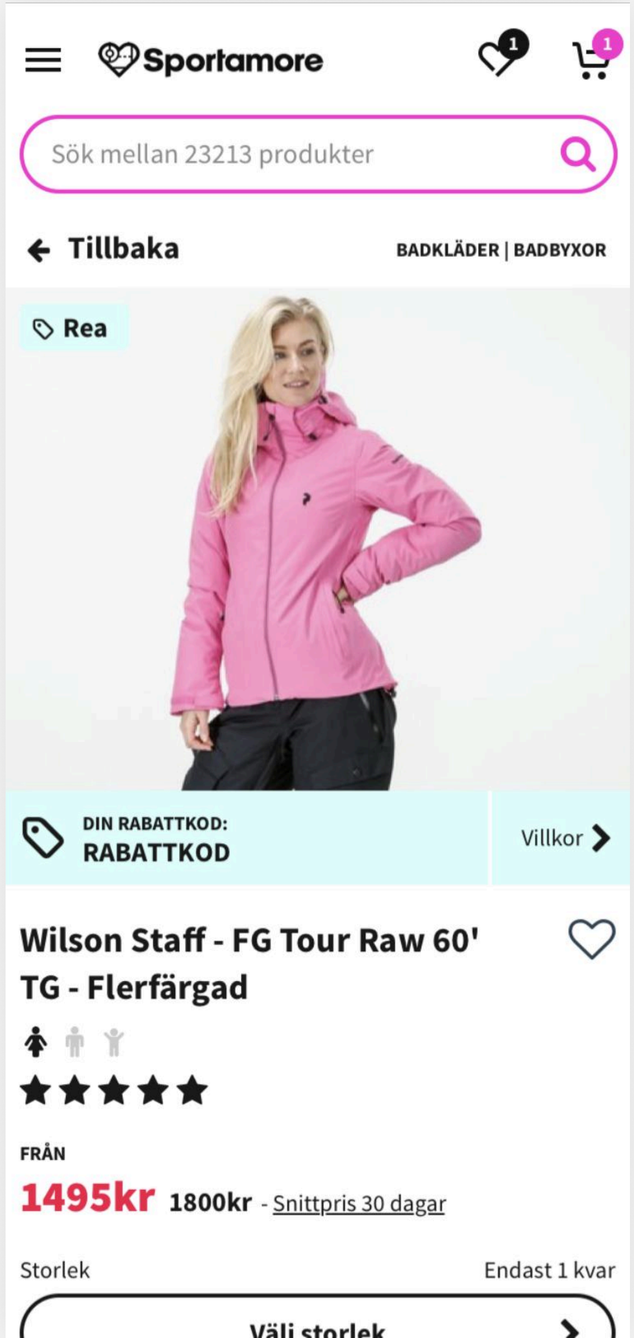

Qualitative Study

A quick prototype to verify if participants understood what was happening.

With no surprises, our hypotheses were validated enough for us to commit to a release.

This was before we had A/B Tests implemented, so we had to do it live.

Actions Taken

Improvements
- Automatically apply coupons on Checkout
- More coupon alerts & feedback
- Simplify coupon conditions
- Refine the Coupon Component

Campaign Component System
- Part of the Design System
- Coupon Component
- Campaign Themes
- Component rules

Allow users to copy / paste coupons anyway
- It doesn’t really do anything, but it feels good!

Developer Collaboration

Delivery

This phase was mostly a matter of:

- Adding the new components to the design system, such as the new Coupon Component.

- Documenting the User Flows and new Copy.

- Collaborating with Developers to ensure the new user flow was as integrated smoothly into production.

Analysis

After two weeks
- No more User complaints in feedback
- 50% drop in CS tickets
- Slight drop in Abandon Cart
- Slight increase in CR% for coupon campaigns

After a few months
- A slight uptick on Return Users

Lessons

Takeaways
- Automate it, remove human error
- Customer Support is a valuable source of data
- Voucher flight is a thing

Details to consider
- Many users still were used to copy/pasting.
- Most users were not campaign focused, but product focused.
- Coupons didn’t have such a huge impact.
- Checkout unchanged.
